SITUATION SUMMARY

Current Weather :

Northern California

General rain accumulations in Northern California in the past 24 hours have ranged between 0.97 inches in Stockton to 5.44 inches in the Mining Ridge area of Monterey County.

Watershed areas in northern California generally receive 1-2 inches of precipitation, however, the Shasta Dam area received 1.04 inches of precipitation in the last 24 hour period. The remainder of the forecasted area has received .04 inches – up to 1.0 inch

Southern California

General rain accumulations in the past 24 hours have ranged from 1 to 2 inches in lower elevations.

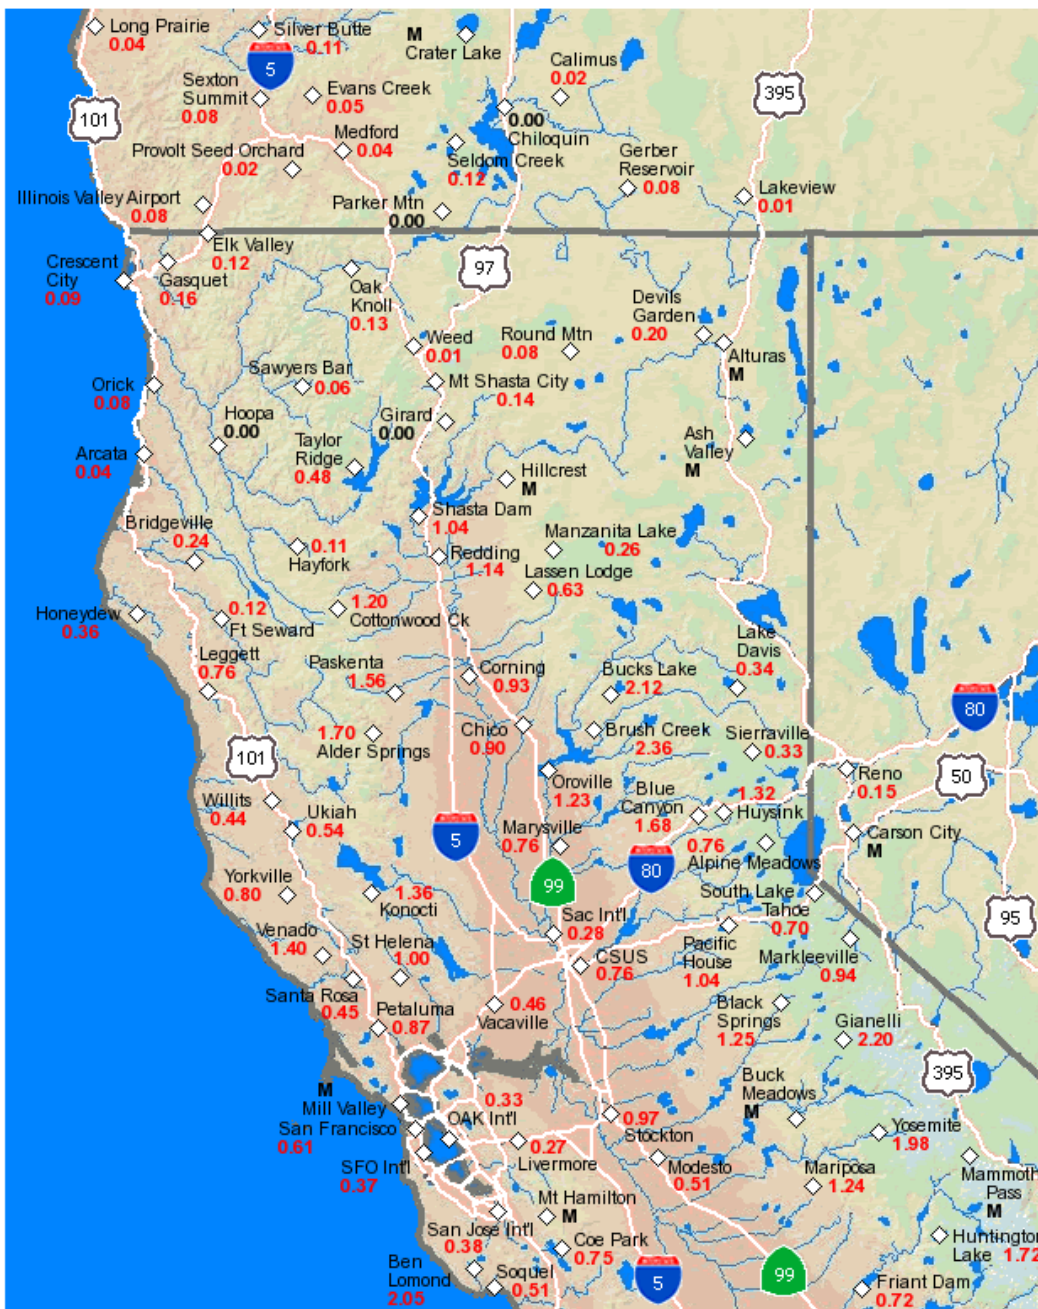

More showery precipitation with a chance of thunderstorms will persist into late afternoon Saturday. Widespread rainfall rates between a half and one inch an hour are expected with local rates up to 1.5 inches per hour are possible through early afternoon and burn areas will be extremely susceptible to mud and debris flows. Storm total rain amounts of 2-4 inches at lower elevations, 4-7 inches in the foothills, and 8-10 inches in the mountains are expected through Saturday night. Snow levels will around 5500 feet through Saturday.

Future Weather :

Northern California

This storm will take the brunt of its heavy rain/snows into southern California but we'll still likely get some decent snows out of this especially south of Hwy 50 and into Mono County. The Mammoth area may pick up some significant snows. Forecast confidence is medium -- the main uncertainty is how far north the heavy snows will fall (the snow forecast for the Tahoe area is a little less predictable with this storm).

Snow Levels:

Northern Mountains: 5500-7000 feet Saturday-Sunday, rising to 8000-9500 feet Monday-Tuesday

Central and Southern Sierra: 5500-6500 feet rising to 7500-8500 feet Saturday; then to 8000-9500 feet Sunday and Monday, further rising to 9500-11000 feet Tuesday

Southern Mountains: 6000-7000 feet Saturday, rising to 8500-9500 feet Sunday, further rising to 10000-12500 feet Tuesday

Southern California

Rainfall today with this storm will generate 1-3 inch totals for most coast and valley locations with heaviest amounts near the foothills. Rainfall totals of 3-6 inches are possible in the foothills and coastal mountain slopes with local 8 inch totals possible in the wettest locations.

This storm will be capable of producing bursts of rainfall rate intensities between 1 to 2 inches per hour. These numbers are more than enough to cause serious debris flows in and below the recent burn areas

- Southern REOC

The Southern REOC is activated at Level 2 – Saturday, and Sunday 0600 – 1800

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS / ACTIVITY

Cal EOC Incident – 2014 Drought

Situational Summary: (No change) Next report Monday March 3, 2014

- The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue without substantial rainfall, severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State for several months. Negative economic impacts will also result. The Governor has established a Drought Task Force to prioritize State actions needed to address these conditions. Governor Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for these drought conditions. The State Operations Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities.
- Many local jurisdictions have enacted water conservation measures. The Office of Emergency Services is in close contact with counties and local officials to monitor the water conditions, agriculture and economy.
- As a result of the drought DWR has informed the customers of the State Water Project (SWP) that deliveries in 2014 will be discontinued if current dry conditions persist. Deliveries to agricultural districts with long-standing water rights in the Sacramento Valley may be cut 50 percent (the maximum permitted by contract) depending upon future snow survey results. Storage in key reservoirs now is lower than at this time in 1977, one of the two previous driest water years on record. While additional winter storms may provide a limited boost to reservoir storage and water deliveries, it would need to rain and snow heavily every other day from now until May to get us back to average annual rain and snowfall. The allocation may change depending on future storm events.

Current 2014 – Winter Storms Updates

Declarations/Resolutions/Proclamations

- Monterey County Proclamation Due to the Forecasted Series of Storms:

Monterey County has proclaimed the existence of a local emergency due to a series of storms and related weather events, commencing on or about February 26, 2014 continuing through Sunday, March 2, 2014 causing flooding, mud and debris flow in areas extremely vulnerable to these threats due to post Pfeiffer Fire wildfire in December 2013. Immediate action is necessary to mitigate the effects of the local emergency; and this emergency does not permit delay from competitive solicitation to let contracts for bids. No state assistance is being requested and no Governor's Proclamation is being requested. Cal OES Coastal Region is dispatching staff to Monterey County to identify needs and provide necessary resource support from the State. Update: Monterey County EOC did not activate on Friday, 2/28/2014. Cal OES Coastal Region Emergency Services Coordinator was demobilized.

- Los Angeles County Expected Proclamation

Cal OES is expecting to receive a Proclamation for a State of Emergency in Bouquet Canyon located near Santa Clarita that was passed yesterday, February 25, 2014 by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Local residents' well water levels have dropped due to silt buildup in Bouquet Creek. Recent fire and storm events have increased sediment deposits in Bouquet Canyon Creek reducing its flood carrying capacity. The reduced flood carrying capacity minimized the recharge to groundwater wells which are the sole source for potable water for approximately 150 properties in the area.

Declarations/Resolutions/Proclamations

- Los Angeles County Proclamations
 - A Proclamation of local emergency from the City of Glendora, Los Angeles County due to winter storms has been received with no request for State assistance.
 - A Proclamation of local emergency from the City of Monrovia, Los Angeles County due to winter storms has been received with no request for State assistance.

A Coastal Operational Area weather conference call was held on February 28, 2014 at 0830 hours:

Humboldt County is not expecting flooding issues from these storms

Napa County No activation, just monitoring customers without power and they had 1.3 – 1.5” of rain on the west side and about 1 inch elsewhere

Monterey County No activation, just monitoring, no requests for assistance. The proclamation that they previously put in helped to get the contractor out to the Pfeiffer Ridge area to complete the mitigation work necessary. They reported that through the storms last night and today everything held up. They have an evacuation route in place if it becomes necessary at any time, this would take them through Clear Ridge Road. Sycamore Road has a little mud debris, but a contractor has been hired to keep it clear throughout the storms. Power is out on Pfeiffer Ridge.

Santa Cruz County No activation, just monitoring, Jarvis Road is closed, but this is a small road not isolating anyone, 200 customers without power

Del Norte, Mendocino, Sonoma, Solano, Lake, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Francisco, San Mateo, and Santa Clara, are monitoring with no concerns/requests at this time.
